

Photograph Archive

Works Cited

Frosch, Michael. The American Civil War Portal. October. 2002. Continuous. 15 February. 2005 <<http://www.americancivilwar.info/>>.

Wounded Soldiers Being Tended in the Field After the Battle of Chancellorsville - Near Fredericksburg, VA, May 2, 1863

Field Hospital after the Battle of June 27 - Savage
Station, VA, June 30, 1862

Hospital Tents in the Rear of Douglas Hospital - Washington, D.C., 1864 May

Federal Cavalry at Sudley Ford - Bull Run, VA, March 1862
Probably the crossing that Whitman described in "Calvary Crossing a Ford."

Regimental Fife and Drum Corps

Union and Confederate
Dead – Gettysburg, PA,
July 1863

Battlefield on the Day of the Battle -
Antietam, MD, September 17, 1862
The only known picture of a battle in progress during the Civil War.

Portrait of Walt Whitman